They Regain Stath Place and Send the Cineinnatis Down to Ninth-The Brooklyns Win a Game from the Louisvilles-Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis, and Chicago Also Win-New York's New Player,

The New Yorks played good bail yesterday and defeated the Cincinnatis with case. The Brooklyns won from the Louisvilles and are still tled with the Philadelphias, who took a ball from the Pittsburghs. The Bostons continued their fine work by outplaying the Clevelands at every point and strengthened their lead to 43 points, as the Baltimores dropped a game to St. Louis. Chicago won from Wash-ington and stands but three points behind Cleveland. These games wound up the first series of the Western clubs in the East. Contrary to expectations, the Pittsburghs, Clevelands, and Chicagos have very nearly held their own on the trip, and go home in good positions to continue the fight. above the average. McPrice took eleven chances and cut off at least four hits, two of which were from Jim 'Stafford's bat. Emsile's umpiring was again berfect.

The New Yorks, as usual, went to the bat, and, after Burke had retired, Tiernan laced a single to left and stole second cleanly. Schriver died to McPrice, and Bavis came to time with a corking single past Smith, on which Tiernan raced across the plate. Davis got to second on the throw in, and scored the second run on Van Haltren's crashing grounder that got away from Ewing. Van stole second, but Stafford was third out on a foul fly. The Cincinnatis were put out in one, two, three order, Fuller making a wonderful one hand stop and throw of Ewing's hard grounder.

Farreil began the second with a hot base hit to centre, but he foolishly tried to steal second and was caught. Then Clarke and Fuller went out easily. In their half the visitors scored once. With one out, Smith singled and reached third on Schriver's wild throw to second. Hoy flied to Van and Merritt got a base on balls. Parroit jabbed a base hit to right, and Smith scored, but a moment later Merritt was caught off third and run down.

The New Yorks now proceeded to settle Parroit. Hurke opened with a slashing two-bagger and quickly scored on Tiernan's and crossed the plate on Schriver's single to left. Parroit intercepted Hogriever's throw in and nailed Schriver off first, but Davis got a life on Latham's low throw and ran all the way to the plate on Van Haltren's three-bagger to right. That was too much for Buck's nerves, so he ordered Parrott to the bench and put Dwyer in the box.

Stafford hit one to Smith, whose low throw to the blate let Van's run count. Farreil struck out, and Stafford was doubled when he simultaneously tried to steal second. Hegriever got a base on balls in the last half of the inning, took second on Latham's safe bunt, reached third on Ewing's out, and scored on McPihee's fly to Hurke.

With two men out in the fourth Merritt planted a single in centre and ran home on ov

With two men out in the forth Astrituplanted a single in centre and ran home on Dwyer's fine three-bagger to left. But Hog-riever couldn't bring another run in, as his grounder was pie for Fuller. George Davis got in a magnificent three-bagger in the fifth after two men were out, but had to stay on third, as Van fied to McPhee. Then Clarke began pitching in earnest, and during the remaining five innings the Ohieans not but three singles and were provented from adding to their score.

The New Yorks got men on bases in the sixth and seventh famings, but they couldn't score. In the eighth, however, Van Halten led off with a single and ran all the way to third on Dwyer's wild throw past Ewing. Stafford got a base on balls and was advanced to second on Farrell's hard grounder, that was splendidly stopped by McPhee. Dad clarke now came to the bat determined to show his good eye. Dad has always claimed that he could hit in a pinch, and when he smashed a hot tamale to left for two bases, that sent both runners home, he puffed up like a pouter pigeon. A wild pitch advanced the ex-Eric beauty to third, and Burke's long fly let him waltz across the plate.

Bill Schriver led off in the ninth with a hit that would have allowed a fast runner like Tiernanto make a home run. But as Bill has lead in his shoes, he only managed to lumber as far as third. Bavis's hot grounder to Smith, which was fielded to first, enabled Schriver to score in a heavy callop. Van Haltren rapped out his fourth safe hit, but McPhee robbed Stafford of a single by a phenomenal stop and throw. Farrell took four balls, but there were no more runs, as Clarke was out at first. Mhat looked to be a deliberate interference by Capt. Griffin won yesterday's game at Eastern Park for the Brooklyns. The play occurred in that third inning. Grim was on third base, Stoin on second, and Griffin on first, and one man was out. Corcoran hit a sharp bounder to Shugart, who quickly tossed the ball to O'Brien. The latter's arm was raised really to send the ball to first base for a double play, when Griffin came sailing into O'Brien, knocking the latter off his feet, the ball going five feet over Kemmer's bead. Grim and Stein crossed the plate, while Corcoran and to second base. Unpire Keefe ordered Corcoran back to first, but allowed the two runs to count. Keefe and Griffin clashed in the fifth inning, and the Brooklyns barely escaued forfeiting the game. Weyning's hot liner bounded into the right-field seats. Daly recovered the ball among the spectators and threw it to Griffin, who in turn got the ball to the plate is time for Grim to catch Weyhing. Keefe descared it a dead ball and allowed Weyhing to score. Griffin left the field in search of the League rules, and while he was gone Keefe borrowed Manager McCluskey's watch. Griffin came running on the field with the book in his hand, but the ex-King of pitchers refused to argue with the Brooklyns captain. Two minutes left for you to return to the field, easil Keefe. But Griffin was arguing. Finally, at the last second, Griffin was arguing. Finally, at the last second, Griffin was arguing. Finally, at the last second, Griffin saw that Keefe was determined, and he allowed the game to go on. The second.

POLO PLAYERS ARE READY.

Programme for the Tournament at the Country Club of Westehester. H. L. Herbert, Chairman of the Polo Association, announced yesterday the entries and dates for the games at the Country Club of Westchestor the games at the Country Ciub of Westches-ter. The schedule reads:

Monday, June 24—Freebooters of Meadowbrook Club vs. Rockaway second team.

Tuesday, June 25—Meadlowbrook vs.Country Club of Westchester.

Wednesday, June 26—Myopla vs. Rockaway first team.

Westebesier.
Saturday, June 20. Winners of Tuesday vs. winners of Westebesiay.
Monday, July 1. Finals.—Winners of Monday, June 24.
vs. winners of Saturday, June 20.

The orizes are the Alden Cup, offered by A.
H. Alden, and individual cups, added by the Country Club of Westebester, to be won outright.
An interesting feature of the tournament will will be the appearance of the Myopia Hunt Club team, the first time that they have played in this vicinity. The records of the men and the good game they are showing this spring makes the team very dangerous. Should the Myopias send the same team that made such a good showing on Naturday at Brookline the men and the landicaps will be A. Gardner, 6; R. G. Shaw, 9; George H. Norman, Jr., 4, and R. L. Agassiz, 9. Total, 77 coals. The team of the Country Club of Westebester, with their handicaps, will probably be E. C. Potter, 6; J. M. Waterbury, Jr., 4; R. L. Becckman, 5, and N. C. Reynal, 4. Total, 19 goals.
The Myopias will have to allow the Country Club men eight goals. They will also concede odds to Meadowbrook, and, in the absence of Foxhall Keens and J. S. Stovens, to the Rockaway team. Should the Country Club win in the final, the Alden Cup becomes their property. In spite of the high handicae the Myopias will be the favorites with the critics for the first place.
The tournaments for the remainder of the season are as follows:
Rockaway Hunt Club, Cedarhurst, L. L. July 3 to July 17; Westebester Polo Club was to december.

WILL THE MATCH FALL THROUGH Johnson Declines to Race Zimmerman at

Tom Eck, John S. Johnson's manager, sen the following letter yesterday to W. H. Beagle Chairman of the Asbury Park Race Committee Intended to inspect your track to-day, but owing to the remarks of Wilson, your representative, to a reporter, and my wish to have the race run on neutral ground. I have decided not to allow Johnson to race Zimmerman at Asbury Park. Johnson will meet Zimmerman on any track mutually agreed upon. This is that.

Eck will go to Philadelphia to-day to sign ar-ticles of agreement with Zimmerman's manager.

The new world's professional record of 1 minute 55 3.5 seconds, established by John S. Johnson at Waltham on Monday, has set wheelmen to speculating as to whether Johnson's aspirations for the professional championship will not result in giving A. A. Zimmerman the race of his life if the men ever come together. Johnson is canceded to be a faster man than Zimmerman against the watch, but if pacemakers are barred it is thought that the result of the contest will be doubtful.

S to 1 Line, 5 to 1 Doggett, 6 to 1 Belmar, 8 to 1 FLORETTA'S DAISY STAKES. FIFTH RACE.

THE BLACK FILLY TOO PLEET FOR APPLEGATE.

Five Parlongs Over the Grass Course in 1:00 2-5 a Great Performance-Liza Takes the Swift Stakes-Bomino Wins the Opening Sprint, but the Race Is a Poor One - Meldemere, Intermisston, and Nankt Pook Also Win,

There was some real old-time sport at Sheepshead hay yesterday afternoon when Floretta, Flavia, defeated Applegate for the Daisy Stakes. and the Flying Liza beat a strong field of three year-olds for Mr. Lorillard in the Swift Stakes at seven furlongs. The weather was superb and the track lightning fast.

Applegate was the odds on choice for the Daisy Stakes, which had but six starters out of a score or more nominations. Floretta had not been out in some time, but the great speed displayed by Mr. Helmont's filly in all of her races had not been forgotten by a large number of the faithful who make it a point to see every race of importance decided during the season. It was 7 to 6 against Floretta's chances. E. J. Baldwin started both Ramiro and La Vienta, putting Taral on the former and Doggett on the filly. Floretta showed all of her wonderful brilliancy in getting away from the post, by breaking in the middle of the bunch, and jumping clear of the others in the first twenty yards. Applegate at once gave chase, and they were the only ones in it for the entire journey. Going round the upper turn Griffin steadled Floretta a trifle and Applegate was at her heels, with Mc-Cafferty holding the colt under a double wrap. The backers of the favorite were in great glee. for they reasoned that if Applegate could keep so close to Floretta in the first quarter the colt would surely outrun her home through the stretch. Griffin, however, had something up his sleeve, and while the followers of Applegate were congratulating themselves for their sagacity, he shot away with Floretta and gained lead of two lengths seemingly before McCaf-ferty realized what had occurred. Applegate was ridden nard first with hands and heels, and finally with the whip, but Floretta came tripping over the grass like a worldbeater, and won in the phenomenal time of 1:00 2-5. Griffin drew it fine and the favorite was at the black filly's shoulder as the wire was passed. La Vienta was third, half a dozen or more lengths away. The victory of Ploretta was received with a great demonstration of applause by the public, who admire the filly great ly. Although the pedigree of the filly gives her as being by Civil Service or Fiddlesticks, Trainer Joyner says that she is by Fiddlesticks, beyond a doubt, the dam Fiavia having been bred to Civil Service in February, and not holding to the speedy son of Reform, she was sent to Fiddlesticks.

Owiet deserved to be the favorite for the sistent. She was played at 9 to 10, and with her advantage in weight looked like a winner. There wasn't much to choose between Liza, Belmar, Doggett, and Applause, the real outsider being Gotham at 10 to 1. The start was capital, with Liza just a triffe behind the others. Owlet and Doggett raced head and head up the long backstretch with all but Liza in a bunch, Midgley trailing with Mr. Lorillard's filly. When he attempted to go through on the rail Applause was interfered with and drooped back, causing him to pull up. At the turn Liza was taken to the outside, and, running like a wild thing, she showed as good as Doggett or Owlet when the run home was begun. Owlet and Doggett began to tire a furlong from home, but the former hung on gamely, and Liza only were her down in the final strides, winning by a good neck and shoulders. Gotham showed a startling burst of speed in the stretch, and, carrying his 122 poinds like a feather, the strawberry roan was only beaten a head for second money.

It will take a cracking good three-year-old to take Gotham's measure from now on. Liza is not at all a prepossessing mare, but John Hugsistent. She was played at 9 to 10, and with take Gotham's measure from now on. Liza is not at all a prepossessing mare, but John Huggins has the daughter of Hayon d'Ortuned right up to concert pitch. She is a much improved filly, and acts as though a mile would not stop her. The time, 1:28, is fast, but it is not what filly, and acts as though a mile would not stop her. The time, 1:28, is fast, but it is not what Owlet was capable of accomplishing sometime ago, and the Morris filly has evidently gone back some.

Domino was a big favorite for the opening dash at five and a half furlongs, Rey del Carreres being a warm second choice. Rey del Carreres and Ridicule ran head and head for three furlongs, with Domino in hot pursuit, Taral punching the black fellow at every stride in order to keep up. Rey del Carreres and Domino humped into each other at the bend, and the former stopping badly the favorite won hands down by three lengths. The race was of no account, as the selling-plater Factotum was second, beating Rey del Carreres a head for second money. Factotum swerved all over the stretch at the finish, bumping into Ridicule and Haldwin's colt. From a time test the race was also a poorone. It took Domino 1:08 to run the distance, while Handspring, a two-year-old, carried 1:25 pounds a few days ago and ran the same distance in 1:06 2-5.

Our Jack was the favorite for the handicap at one mile and a sixteenth. Sister Mary, Redskin, and Beldemere averaging 4 to 1. Our Jack had no speed apparently, for Hamilton was hard at work on him shortly after the start. Sister Mary, Cromwell, and Redskin ran like a team up the backstretch, with Our Jack and Declare last, and under pressure. Redskin shook Sister Mary off on the upper turn, and was fighting with the light-weighted Cromwell when Griffin brought Heldemere up with a well-timed rush and won by a length. Redskin beat Cromwell a neck for second money. Our Jack, well flogged by Hamilton, was fourth. Sister Mary was absolutely last, stopping to nothing after going seven furlongs. Redskin's race was a good one, he running around his field on both turns.

was absolutely last, stopping to nothing after going saven furlongs. Redskin's race was a good one, he running around his field on both turns.

The Morris filly Intermission, the Brookdale representative One I Love, and the Santa Anita Stable's Argentina were heads apart in the dash at five furlongs for two-year-olds. There was a very strong tip out on One I Love, the filly by Minting, out of The Apple, going to the poet an even-money favorite. The favorite and Intermission had it hammer and tongs from the drop of the flag. Penn held Griffin safe all through the last furlong. If a jockey of equal merit had been on Argentina victory would have perched upon the banner of the California filly, McClain doing his best, but just falling to land. It was Intermission first by a head: One I Love was second, a nose before Argentina. Intermission was pretty badly cut down, and may not be able to run again for some time.

The last race was beautiful. It had a large field of contestants, with haif a dozen or more of them of recognized prowess over the grass course. The green sward made a pretty background for the gaudy colors of the riders. Sandowne, Arapahoe, and Integrity made the running until the stretch was reached. Then Arapahoe drew out, followed by Nanki Pooh, it was a hard drive to the wire, with the latter winner by a short neck. Paladin, showing a loof speed in the last three furlongs, was third.

The dummy Law and Order League of Brooklyn, of which Peter Delacey's lawyer. Elliott, is the President, have had several followers of racing subpenaed to appear before the Grand Jury in Brooklyn to-day and give testimony regarding betting at race tracks. There is no recognized betting at Sheepshead Hay or any other Jockey Club track, and the Jockey Club is doing its best to prevent the passing of money vestorday, and they were worned that a repetition of the offence would cause them to be placed outside of the grounds and kept there. STEWARDS' REPORT ON LAZZARONE. They Think the Horse's Form Was Fairly

The stewards of the Coney Island Jockey Club met after the last race to continue the investi-gation of the running of the horse Lazzarone. Messrs, J. R. & F. D. Beard were again summoned before them, as was also Jockey Murphy, who rode the horse in his races previous to the Suburban. Messrs, J. O. Donner, James Galway, and Joseph J. Burke were the stewards present.

The report in detail is as follows:

In the matter of the investigation of the running of the horse Lazzarone, both at the Brooklyn and the Coney Island Jockey Club courses. the stewards find that in consideration of weights carried, distances run, pace and circumstances during the races, no such discrepancy exists in the running of the said horse as to warrant any disciplinary action.

The statement of the jockey, Murphy, under examination did not verify any of the nileged public statements, and he asserted that in the last work he was called upon to give the horse, blinkers were used at his suggestion with the public statements, and he asserted that in the last work he was called upon to give the horse, blinkers were used at his suggestion with the most successful result, the work under those circumstances being very much better than the horse had previously shown, and he was run for the first time with blinkers in the Suburban with equally good results.

The horse has shown in all his previous races, both as a three-year-old and this year, that he was a weight carrier, rater, and stayer, but not essentially a sprinter. In the manner in which the Suburban was run this year, where he ran the first half mile in only 52% seconds, he was, at his own pace, the freshest horse in the last quarter.

Comparison of the form of Lazzarone and so reliable a horse as Sir Waiter, taking note of the rate at which the first half mile of each race was run and the weights carried, will show his Suburban race to be quite in line with his previous efforts. Of the two races criticised, the first was a handicap at a mile and three-sixteenths, in which Lazzarone carried 122 pounds and Stephen J. 95 pounds. The first half mile was run by Stephen J. and Ited Skin in 40%, the mile and an eighth in 1:54, and the entire distance in 2:01, a rate which would easily carry Stephen J. to the winning post for the Suburban in 2:07 4.5. It is not unlikely that Lazzarone was carried off his feet in the first part of the race of June 1. If Sir Waiter had been in that race and had been handicapped according to the running of the two horses at even a difference of eight pounds, he would have had to carry 130 pounds, and more than likely would have been defeated in as decisive a manner as was Lazzarone.

His next race was the Brookdale Handicap at one and one-eighth miles, and as every observer will remember was an untrue run race, in as much as the first quarter was run in 28seconds, all the starters pulling to each other, which forced Sir Waiter with 128 pounds to make his own pace, with the result that Stephen J. athough he carried 7% pounds more than ih the same.

The change of jockeys was fully explained by the owners and trainers to the satisfaction of the stewards, as merely a matter of preference. An apparent irregularity in the registration of this horse, as shown by the Jockey Club records, was discovered during the investigation, which will be made the subject of further investigation by the stewards.

STRAIGHT HEATS AT PARKWAY. Bayreuth, Major Corwin, and Sybti Take

Horsemen who attended the opening of the Parkway trotting meeting yesterday saw two promising young stallions go to the front in the two trotting races on the card. One of the winners was Bayreuth, the smoothly turned, power-fully-built big bay five-year-old, by Stranger, that surprised the falcot as well as his trainer by landing the 2:33 class race at Fleetwood last week, and taking a record of 2:21. A good field was pitted against him yesterday, the brown mare Rose and C. D. Smith's neat little gelding Victor E. both showing a fine turn of speed, but the grandson of Goldsmith Maid could out-trot them all, and do it easily, going around the sharp turns of the half-mile track as handily as a pony. He is a grand-looking horse, and he promises to take a record of 2:15 or better this

The other promising winner was Major Corwin, a brown stallion of exquisite form and style, by Alcyone, out of Kate, the dam of Budd Doble, 2:1396, by Stocking Chief. He has all the finish and quality of his renowned sire, and he bids fair to become in time one of the fastest of Alcyone's get. Fifteen trotters started against him yesterday, a formidable field to beat in straight heats on a half-mile track, but so fast was the bloodlike brown son of Alcyone that he did the trick without being called upon at any part of any heat. C.S. Hendricsson, who trains him, says he is the making of a 2:15 trotter. Corwin shows a little inclination to pace, and he carries a 12-ounce shoe and a i-ounce toe weight to belance him. Although he does not touch himself in action, Hendrickson yesterday drove him with quarter-boots and shin and too boots as a matter of brecaution. George Rocckies of Jamaica, who owns the stallion, bought him for a few hundred dollars at one of Keilong's alcotton sales about two years ago.

He was trained, and trotted a few races last season on Long Island, showing a half, it is said, in 1:11 on the Riverhead track. Last week, at the Mineda meeting, he gained a record of 2:28. He is entered in the 2:49 class to be trotted tomorrow, and as Bayreuth is named to start in the same class a fine race is expected.

The pacing race yesterlay was an easy thing for hybil, a fast mare, owned by Harris Bogert of the Parkway Club and driven by D. H. Nichels. In the final heat she made a nreak near the three-ounter pole, but, recovering her stride, came on so fast from three or four lengths back that she beat Waverly King out by a good neck before he could reach the wire.

James Culbertson of Cherago officiated as starter at the meeting and was very successful in handling the big field of trotters in the 2:50 class. His assignates in the stand were ex-Alderman Henry Hughes of New York, and Arthur lengths back that she beat Waverly King out by a good neck before he could reach the wire.

John McCarty kept the time. To-day's card includes the 2:20 rase and win, a brown stallion of exquisite form and style, by Aleyone, out of Kate, the dam of Budd

Boston, June 18.—The match between Hovey and Lee for the tennis championship of Massachusetts was decided to-day on the Longwood Cricket Club's courts. Hovey showed all of his old-time form and won the first set 6 to 1. The second set was full of brilliant plays, and after a hard up-hill fight Hovey won it by a score of 7 to 5. The last set also went to Hovey, 7 games to 5, and he was once more declared champion of the State.
